

Personal data

We need to collect personal data such as in user studies and customer services. Here we tell you how we handle your personal data according to the Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and what we use them for.

Personal information is information that can be linked to a person who is alive, such as their name, social security number, nationality, education, employment relationships and contact information.

According to the Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), organisations may only collect and process personal data for a well-defined purpose. So it must be clear what the information is being used for. In addition, only relevant data should be processed and should not be retained longer than necessary.

You can affect your personal data

You have the right to request access to, correct, delete or restrict the processing of your personal data. You can also object to how we handle your personal data.
